

Minimal fluctuations in T-bill rates for this week whilst BPNG continues to offer the 7 Day Fixed Rate Full Allocation (FRFA).

- A total of K304.36m was offered in the T-bill auction this week. There was an oversubscription in the overall auction results by an aggregate amount of K378m. The 273 day offering experienced strong bidding 3.60% subscription rate.
- Rates for the 182 paper declined by 1bps whilst the 273 tenor increased by 2bps. Rates for the 364 days paper remained unchanged.
- Graph 1.0 shows movement over a 12 month period for the 182, 273 and 364 days papers.
- The Central Bank notes that headline inflation is anticipated to remain low while core inflation to moderate, based on its assesment of economic fundamentals and broader macroeconomic indicators.
- The Kina Facility Rate (KFR) has reduced by 50 basis points for this month from 3.00% to 2.50%. The reduction aims to support economic growth as inflation remains subdued.
- BSP Treasury monthly market summary noted BPNG’s increased intervention in the FX market has played a big part in system liquidity and the increase in auction rates across all tenors.
- The Government at the end of the week passed the Budget for 2024. Budget deficit of 3.3% of GDP, or PGK3,983.6million. Deficit balance of PGK2,320.4 to be financed domestically through Treasury Bills, Bonds, and loans, and the remainder externally.

Money market Insight

- Term deposit rates remained flat across the board except rates for FinCorp which saw a declined in all tenors for the week.
- The Central Bank continues to strengthen the monetary policy operational framework by intensifying efforts to mop up excess liquidity and adopt more effective short-term liquidity management instruments. One of the measures introduced by BPNG is the 7-Day Fixed Rate Full Allocation (FRFA) Central Bank Bill.
- The FRFA Auction is exclusive to deposit takers, such as commercial banks, Savings & Loans Societies and Finance Companies. This week saw the fixed rate remained unchanged at 2.50%, there are specific requirements, and outcome is solely subjected to Bank of PNG's decision.
- This week's FRFA Central Bank Bill auction allocated K2,390.9bn at a fixed rate of 2.50 percent. To improve the transmission of monetary policy, BPNG will continue to align its monetary policy instruments to better influence domestic market interest rates to respond to changes in the monetary policy rate, the KFR. As a result, the 7-day Central Bank Bill rate, the short-term liquidity instrument under the Fixed Rate Full Allotment auction has increased by 50 basis points to 2.50 percent with immediate effect.
- The September Treasury Bond issuance was held on the 23rd September 2023. Debt issuance were for 2,3,4,6,7,8,9 and 10 years with a total issuance amount of K510.4m. Coupon rates declined on all the papers.
- GIS appropriation for 2023 have been fully issued as at October this year. There will be no issuance for the remainder of the year until further notice.
